China and the World: An inter linked relationship

Over last two decade or so, China has achieved global scale by integrating itself and increasing world's exposure to China.

China : Set to enter multiplier zone on the backdrop of last decade

China's GDP in current term has increased from 6.1 USD Tn (2010) to 14.7 Tn (2020) clocking on average growth of 9.2% per annum vis-à-vis 4.6% per annum growth registered by India during the same period.

China: Increasing its share in global economy and innovation

In last three decade, China's share in World GDP has increased from 3% (1990) to 17% (2020) bridging the gap between United States and China contribution to world GDP.

China’s exposure to world in terms of Trade, Technology and Capital is significant

In last two decade, China’s exposure to World has increased whereas US exposure to World has remained relatively stable as per McKinsey Global Institute China World Exposure Index

Source: McKinsey Global Institute, China and the World, Inside the dynamic of a changing relationship, 2019, We set a value of 1.0 as an average exposure index between the world and seven large economies (China, France, Germany, India, Japan, the United Kingdom, and the United States): a value greater than 1.0 suggests the world is more exposed to China than to the seven large economies, on average, whereas a value less than 1.0 suggests the world is less exposed to China than to the seven large economies.

China's Tech and digital economy has grown significantly

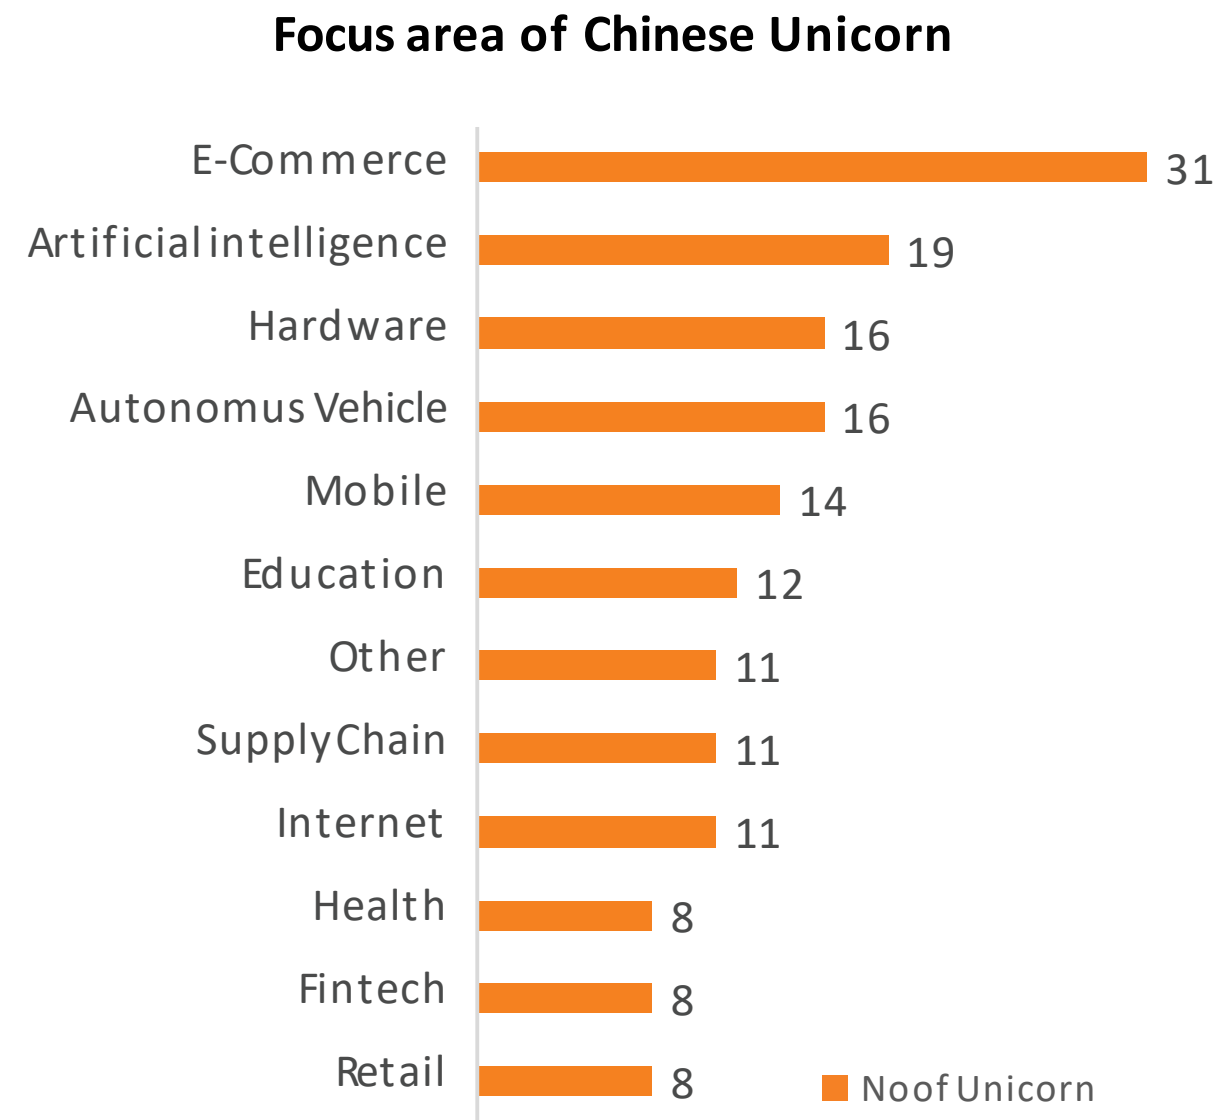

Tech and Digital Economy has paved its way toward contributing to the China's overall GDP exponentially. It is expected to lead in the coming years towards country GDP's

China Tech market is expected to grow significantly

- ▶ The Tech companies are expected to invest more in upcoming technologies like IOT, AI etc.
- ▶ Key focus is expected to be on innovation
- ▶ For investors, Soft Tech may provide investment opportunity due to attractive valuations, Hard Tech on the other side is expected to find more government support and momentum

China Tech landscape is expected to grow significantly

Recent regulatory actions on Tech: For Greater good ?

- | | |
|--|---|
| I. Ant Group IPO suspended | VI. Cybersecurity probe launched against Didi just before its IPO |
| II. SAMR announces guidelines to root-out monopolistic practices | VII. New regulations on Meituan to pay minimum wages to delivery staff |
| III. Anti-trust investigation against Alibaba | VIII. Short Video apps Kuaishou & ByteDance face regulation for promoting bad culture |
| IV. Tencent and Baidu fined by Antitrust Regulator | IX. New data protection law passed on how companies collect & handle user information |
| Alibaba fined $2.9 Billion for breaking country's anti-monopoly law | X. New restrictions on NetEase and Tencent to prevent online game addiction |

- ▶ China regulators are now focusing on Tech companies to put controls in previously less governed space. While the intent is similar to US and EU, the pace and ferocity along with expected tighter control from the CPC, has surprised investors, reducing the M-Cap of these Tech companies by over 1 Trillion USD.
- ▶ Reduce Anti competitive practices, improve data security and consumer rights
- ▶ Growth towards common prosperity
- ▶ Companies are already taking action to cater to above concerns
